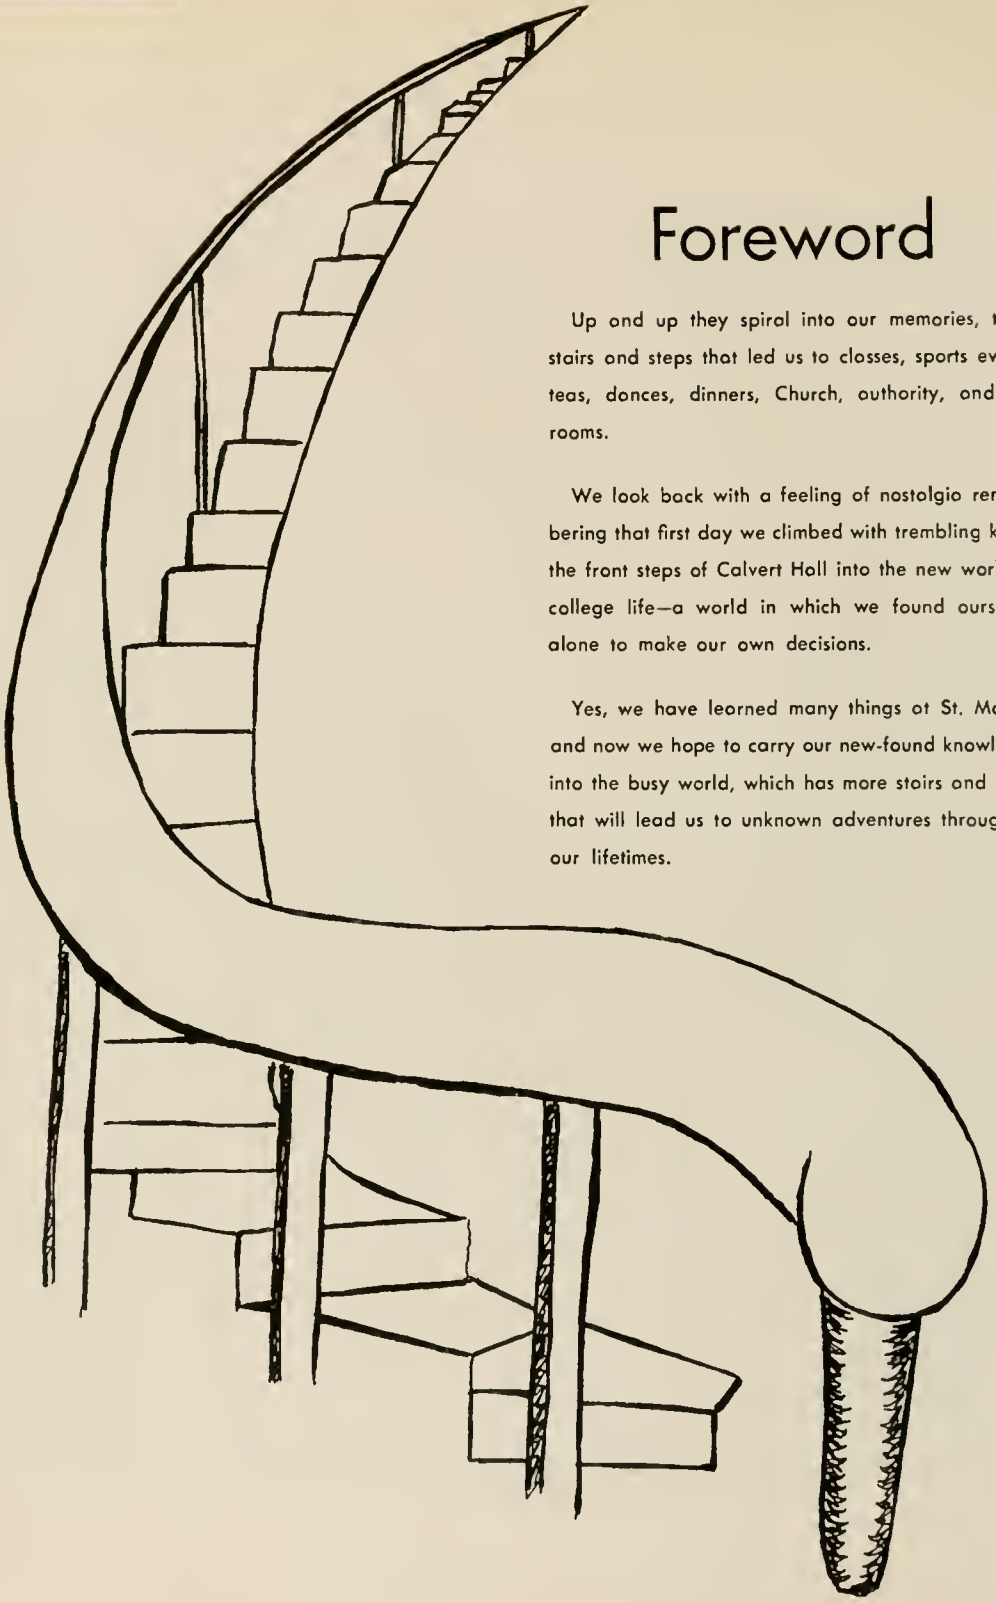
THE CASTELLAN 1960

ST. MARY'S SEMINARY JUNIOR COLLEGE

ST. MARY'S CITY, MARYLAND



Foreword

Up and up they spiral into our memories, those stairs and steps that led us to classes, sports events, teas, dances, dinners, Church, authority, and our rooms.

We look back with a feeling of nostalgia remembering that first day we climbed with trembling knees the front steps of Calvert Hall into the new world of college life—a world in which we found ourselves alone to make our own decisions.

Yes, we have learned many things at St. Mary's, and now we hope to carry our new-found knowledge into the busy world, which has more stairs and steps that will lead us to unknown adventures throughout our lifetimes.

President's Message

May the future of each of you be characterized by competence in sharing with your associates a life that is dimensioned by breadth of interest, height of purpose, and depth of conviction.

MAY RUSSELL

Dedication

A man who is constantly working for the betterment of the school, one who never has complained about having to carry an exceptionally heavy schedule because of a shortage of faculty, and a quite active person on campus—these describe our loyal and considerate friend. Through the years, each time we open our yearbook, he will be remembered for his kindness, thoughtfulness, and helpfulness, which he has shown us here at St. Mary's.

And so it is to you, Mr. Fahl, a wonderful friend to all of us, that we proudly dedicate this, our 1960 Castellan.

ALMA MATER

On the bonks of blue St. Mary's—near Potomac's strand,
Stands our dear old Alma Mater—best school in the land!
Built of bricks from the first state house—near the mulb'ry's shade
Where Lord Calvert with the Indians once a treoty mode.
Like a beacon by the river, stands she grandly bold,
Giving knowledge to her daughters—worth more than pure gold,
Age and fire cannot destroy her—(She has stood the test)—
We will always love St. Mary's—she deserves our best.
We will ever love St. Mary's—love to pro'se her name;
Strive to make our lives add luster to her glorious fame.
Let your glad song woke the echoes, sing with voices free—
Hail to Thee, Dear Alma Mater!—Hail, all hail, to Thee!

Student Government Association

The Student Government Assaciatian was arganized at St. Mary's ta uphald and enforce the rules and regulatians af the Assaciatian, ta establish penalties and deprivatians for violatians, ta take for consideratian suggestians from members af the Assaciatian, ta propase or initiate new rules and regulatians, and ta enact such measures as they deem necessary and praper for the welfare and interest af the student bady. The power and autharity held by Council is delegated by the Administratian.

The Honar System creates and maintains a spirit of honesty among the people living under it by establishing a mutual respect among the students and teachers. St. Mary's established its Honor System in 1949 as a result of a detailed study of Hood College's Honor System. Lying, cheating, and stealing are violations of our Honor Code at St. Mary's.

Honor Court

What da you have ta say for yourselves, Gents?

M. S. G. A.

The Men's Student Government Association was formed in September, 1959, as a step to prepare for the future increase of male day and dormitory students.

It was formed for the purpose of giving the male student a feeling of being more a part of the College and encouraging his participation in college activities. Since the male pupil is not included in most meetings held on campus, the M. S. G. A. serves to inform him of events and decisions that affect him and governs the appearance and conduct of the male student body.

This organization is living proof of the improvement and development of the College.

Bill Lain, President, introduces a new idea to the organization.

Choir

Among the most active organizations at St. Mary's Seminary is the choir. The members sing for their own enjoyment as well as for the enjoyment of athers. Their activities this year included a Thanksgiving Assembly, a Christmas Assembly, participation in the Christmas Candlelight Service, and the annual Easter Tour.

Aside from the regular choir, a male quintet has been added to encourage musical interest among the male set an Campus. The members of the quintet are: Allen Stewart, James Waad, Bill Lain, Bill Kirby, and Frank Hill.

Phi Theta Kappa is a National Junior College Honorary Schalastic Society. On February 18, 1960, a charter was granted which establ'shed the Kappa Xi Chapter at St. Mary's. The purpose af the Saciety is ta pramate schalarship, ta develop character, and ta cultivate fellawship among the students af the juniar calleges af the United States.

The members af the S. M. S. Chapter are: Richard Briell, Sarah Buckler, John Thampsan, Mary Grace Bean, Janice Hearn, and Mildred Holt.

Phi Theta Kappa

"Curtain going up!" The house lights dim and actars appear an stage as the drama club performs another vivid play far its St. Mary's audience. Samadra is under the direction af Mr. Mark Wallace.

Samadra activities this year included a trip to the Arena Stage in Washingtan, D. C., ta view The Iceman Cameth by Eugene O'Neill.

Samadra

Members study the detailed features of this portrait.

Art Club

Organizing exhibits, discussing sketches, designing and printing posters for the College's extra-curricular events are a few of the many activities conducted at the meetings of the Art Club.

The chief purpose of the organization is to help its members develop their imaginations to the fullest extent and to better apply their artistic talents and knowledge to practical use.

Amy Ollendike poses while the others plan their sketches.

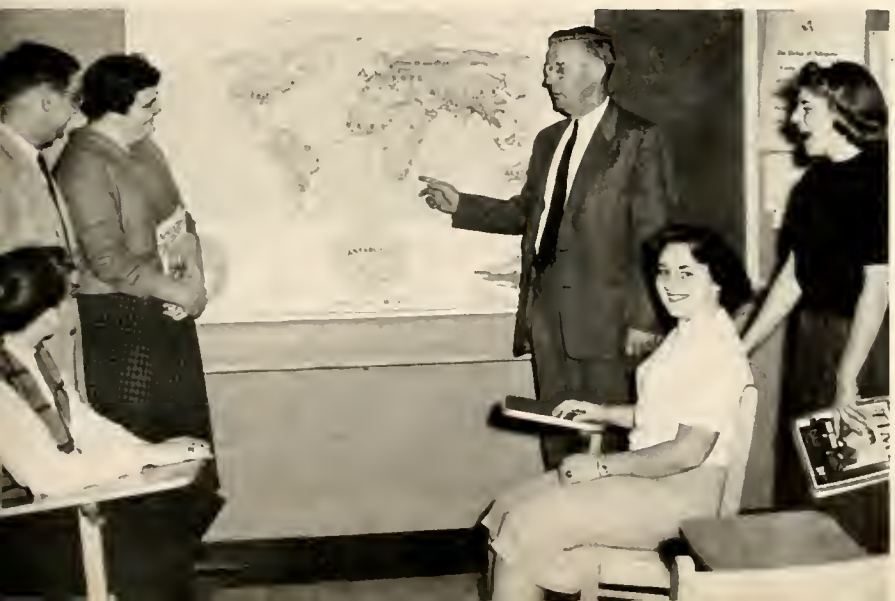
Porlez-vous Français? "Oui," reply the members of the French Club. This arganizatian offers an interesting ond different way ta learn a foreign language. Everyone speoks French while learning unusual things about the customs ond habits of the peaple af France.

French Club

International Relations Club

"An informed public is a good one." This is the slogan of the Internatianal Relatians Club.

Its members are oll interested in current affoirs and enjoy discussions concerning any phase of warld happenings. Film strips, movies, special reports, and guest speakers constitute the subjects of the Club's meetings.



Mr. Yorborough, Advisor, indicates locolities of current interest on o mop of the World.

F. N. A.

Supplementing the fact that every girl at one time or another has the desire to become a nurse is the enrollment of members in the Future Nurses of America Club. This largest club at St. Mary's purports to instill in its members the desire to enter nursing or relative health careers.

During the year the F. N. A. assists with all health activities, campaigns, and projects, and plays an important role in the March of Dimes campaign. Each Saturday morning volunteers go to the county hospital and work as nurses' aides. Each holiday season the Club makes attractive Christmas gifts for the Children's Hospital.

To aid in securing foreign relations, they purchased 100 books to send to underprivileged children in other countries.

Thus, the F. N. A. has become an essential element in the club program at S. M. S.

Pat Reamy and Sally Mason have tea with Commander Dorothy Gale.

Betty Short, Joan Carver, Susan Claggett, and Goody Gardiner paint the juke box for the March of Dimes Dance in Leonardtown.

Future teochers discuss, critically, magazine articles.

F. T. A.

Alicia Dewees and Dallas Plugge examine catalogs from various teachers' colleges.

With education as their primary goal, the F. T. A. endeavors to study the best methads af teaching their fellow man.

Each member realizes the value af learning in one's life and, through the various club activities, carries thase high standards into her life and future.

The arganizatian prepares to direct and encaurage the teaching profess'an as a mast enriching and rewarding ane to its members.

The yearbaak staff discusses ideas to use in the 1960 Castellan.

The Notionol Theotre in D. C. is the scene of mony productions which serve os entertoinment for S. M. S.'s theotre-goers.

Social Committee

The goy whirl of dances, teos, shopping excursions, movie-going, play hopping, and historic trips belong under the jurisdiction of the Standing Social Committee.

This group plans o wide variety of octivities to fulfill the overage person's need for social contact. They attempt to enoble the entire student body to join in the "play" part of College without detrocting too much from the "work" part.

With the hope that each person gains sociol grace and social development from such o progrom, the committee has ottained o necessory position os o vital function ot St. Mory's.

Choirmon Mory Clork pours teo to Cory Block os members pouse for on old-fashioned "spot of teo."

Home Economics Club

Golden cookies, light cakes, and other innumerable delights fill the Home Economics Department with their delicious aroma, beckoning each girl into its homelike atmosphere.

The Home Economics Club enables future homemakers to pursue their culinary interests in a warm, hospitable environment. The objectives of the club are providing service to the community, developing citizenship, promoting international relations through studies of people and their domestic customs, and creating an interest in home economics by presenting it as a challenge and a pleasure.

This year's activities—having guest speakers, sponsoring the Silver Tea and the Christmas basket, and participating in International Relations Day—were planned primarily to enable the club to attain its objectives and become a necessary part of campus living.

Sports

A. A. Board

Playing an active role in every sem-fem's life, the Athletic Association Board is the core of all sports activities.

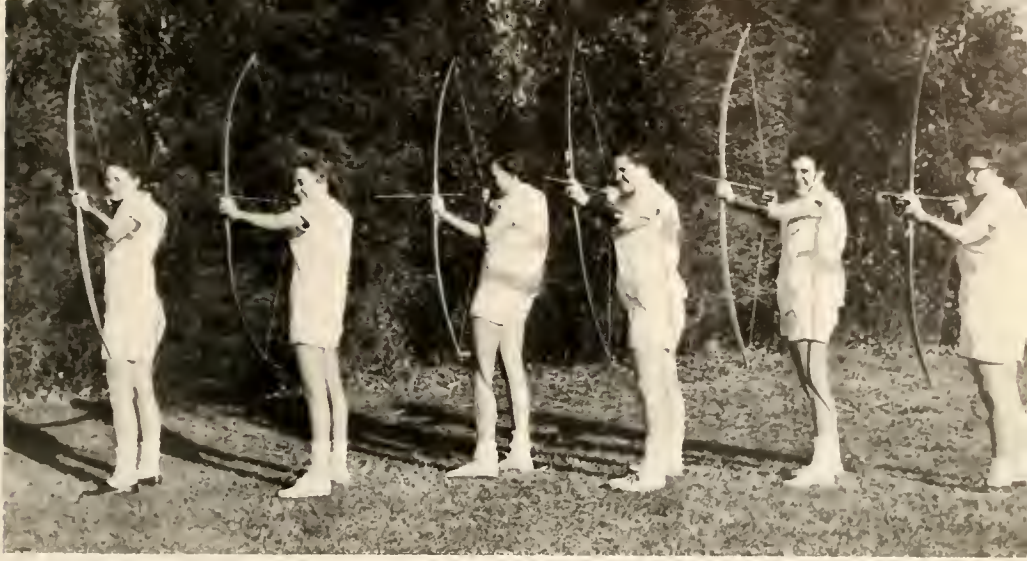
Theirs is a job which entails the responsibility of supplying a camprehensive athletic agenda for each individual.

Sponsoring the Christmas Prom and May Day, directing intramurals, and developing the sports program are but a few of their many achievements thraughout the year.

Volleyball All-Stars

Hard fighting and unbeatable describe the Valleyball All-Stars as they climbed their way ta victary in each game.

Each member was chosen from class intramurals according ta the ability she displayed during the season. Ta be on this team is an hanar and each girl has proven her worthiness in showing good spartsmonship and co-operotiveness.



Archery

"I shot my arrow into the air. It landed; but I know not where." Hoping not to have the latter came true, these archers aim straight and true to the heart of the matter—the target.

A popular form of diversion, archery provides a sense of enjoyment as well as accomplishment for its followers.

Modern Dance

This modern dance group portrays one of the steps which composed a part of their Thanksgiving program.

Through abstract representations and expressions, these girls enrich their world of experience and find fulfillment in the most popular of physical arts—dancing.

Hockey Varsity

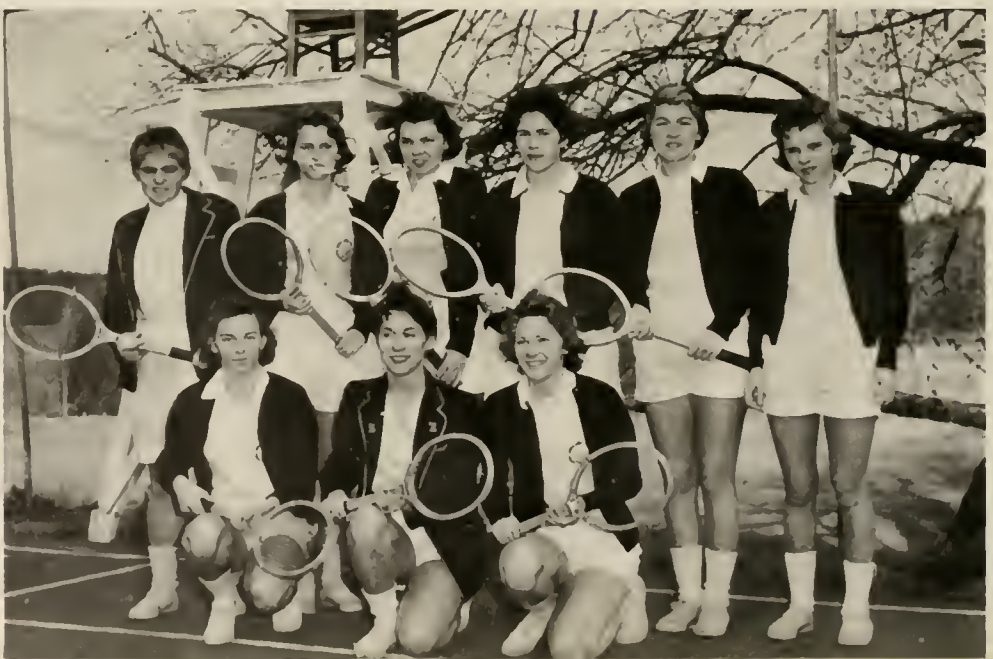
Uniform in its pose as well as its playing, the Hockey Varsity is living proof of teamwork and precision.

Executing their skill with experience plus vigor, these lassies came out on top in their class, with high hopes of extending their program in following years.

Challenging their apponents with brisk determination, the tennis team has set an enviable example for successive groups to follow.

With quality coaching and continuous practice, this team "jumps the net" with each victory and brings more prestige to the halls of S. M. S.

Tennis Varsity



Softball Varsity

A heorty group af fifteen faces its softboll season with top players and an excellent winning record to its credit.

With high spirits, this proficient teom has proved to be worthy of the enthusiastic support of loyal Sem-Fems.

Boating and Swimming

Adjusting the soils and securing the ropes are Meggy and P. K., avid fans of boating and swimming.

In the distance are two more enthusiosts, proving the fact that St. Mary's River offers a variety of fun-filled activities on a lazy, spring doy.

Cheerleaders

Representative of the school spirit is this group of sparkling, energetic pep-per-uppers (Cheerleaders). Displaying their talent as morale boasters, these girls have lead our team an to mony a victory.

Social Events

May Day

A bevy of beauties, light hearts, and warm sunshine are the traditional elements for the annual May Day program at St. Mary's.

The Court consists of three representatives of the high school ond sophomore classes, two electives from the freshman class, and the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Princess. These lovelies highlight the afternoon program, and are honored at the May Prom that evening.
